FORMED THE CATHOLIC PATH OF FAITH

The Lewis County Catholic Times

A Weekly Bulletin for the parishes of Saint Patrick Catholic Church, Weston, Saint Boniface Catholic Church, Camden and Good Shepherd Mission, Glenville, West Virginia
Established 1848

Twenty-Seventh Sunday of Ordinary Time

The first reading is taken from the Book of Genesis, 2:18-24, "So the Lord God cast a deep sleep on the man, and while he was asleep, he took out one of his ribs and closed up its place with flesh. The Lord God then built up into a woman the rib that he had taken from the man. When he brought her to the man, the man said: 'This one, at last, is bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh; this one shall be called woman for out of her man this one has been taken.'" This reading has been chosen to show the origin of the Church's teaching on the indissolubility of marriage.

The second reading is from St. Paul's Letter to the Hebrews, 2:9-11, "He who 'for a little while' was made 'lower than the angels', that by the grace of God he might taste death for everyone." Today's reading talks about Jesus' exaltation through abasement.

The Gospel is from St. Mark, 10:2-16. On the "divorce" section of this Gospel see today's first reading. Christ clearly states that from the very beginning, God's plan for marriage was that it should be a life-long unity of one man and one woman. Its purpose is the procreation of children and their education, as well as the mutual love and fulfillment of the husband and wife. These demand this life-long bond. Divorce, which tries to break this bond, breaks the law of the Creator who decreed what was best for the temporal and spiritual welfare of the human race.

The last four verses of today's Gospel describe an incident which is in no way connected with the previous discussion but which has a very useful lesson for all Christians. It describes Christ's love for children and while manifesting this love he stresses the need for all his true followers to be childlike. "I say to you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God like a child shall not enter it." To receive the kingdom of God is to accept the teaching of Christ and live according to it in his kingdom on earth. He who does this will enter, after death, into the eternal kingdom of heaven. Christ says, however, that we must accept "like a child": his kingdom on earth, his teaching and the Church he founded to carry on that teaching. It does not mean: in a childish way, an unthinking, uneducated way, but in a child-like way—a humble, grateful, receptive way. A child is unselfconscious, content to be dependent on others' care and generosity. Christianity is a gift of the generous God to us, we have done nothing and never could do anything to merit it. We must accept it simply and gratefully as a gift; we could never deserve it.

While Christianity is a religion of reason and conforms in all its aspects to the rational nature of man—its basis is the revelation of God who is the author and foundation of all rationality—yet it is the heart of man rather than his intellect which Christ means to capture. The assent of the intellect to the doctrine revealed by Christ is not sufficient of itself for a Christian to earn the eternal kingdom; faith is the total acceptance and commitment of the believer to God through Jesus Christ. The man of true faith commits himself to God with a fil-

Commentary for the Readings in the Extraordinary Form: Twentieth Sunday after Pentecost

"Go thy way, thy son lives.' The man believed. . .As he was. . .going down, his servants met him and brought word saying that his son lived" (Gospel).

The weakened condition of the ruler's son reminds us of our own world. It is worn out by the fever of passion. It is unable to help itself until faith in God returns. A humble confession of sin is the secret of obtaining God's mercy (Introit) and pardon (Prayer).

Be filled with the Spirit during the psalms and hymns of Mass; be subject to one another in public life (Epistle). Liturgy and Catholic Action are twins!

When the official's faith was rewarded, he immediately spread the faith in his whole household, his relatives and employees. Gratitude should prompt you also to be lay apostles, ever ready to "speak religion" in and outside your house. Excerpted from My Sunday Missal, Confraternity of the Precious Blood ial childlike trust, assured that if he does all that he can God will do the rest.

Therefore, our Christian faith must be childlike, a trusting, humble and obedient faith. This is the kind of faith that will move mountains—the mountains that loom so large in the vision of too many Christians today—the mountains of doubt, selfishness, unwillingness to be subjected to authority. Christ asks us, if we would be his followers: to take up our daily cross and climb the way to Calvary after him. This daily cross is made of the troubles and trials of life from which no one can escape. They can be borne with reluctance and grumbling or they can be accepted as the loving God's means of training us for the future life. Every true Christian accepts his trials in the latter way, for if he is true to his faith he knows that his years on earth are his apprenticeship to prepare him for his eternal life.

God is surely not asking too much of us when he asks us to live our Christian faith in childlike humility, candor and confidence during the days of our pilgrimage on this earth.

Dr. Scheu's "Egg-xellent" Challenge

Thank you to all the students and parents who participated in the Egg Balance Challenge. The pictures the students brought were amazing and are posted in front of the office. Please feel free to tag this post with your pictures as well. I did not know about brooms being able to balance as well and was most pleased at learning something new. The reason the challenge was issued was two-fold: firstly to have fun with science. The second reason was a bit more complicated. We often think about science as a tool to dissect and manipulate the world around us to make the world better. Science is often this tool, but it can and should be something more. In a fundamental way, science is about the wonder of God's creation. Science is a method for us to engage with our Creator, and by more fully understanding his creation, we are filled with the wonder of His love. While that wonder is clearly seen in a sunrise over a mountain or the vastness of the sea without land, it is also found in a humble egg standing on its end.

Scrip Works!

The SCRIP program issued its first fundraising report for St. Patrick's School. In little over a month, just twelve families raised over $600 for the school. Imagine what we could do if all ninety-seven of our families actively participated over the course of the year! The main difficulty with SCRIP is developing the habits of thinking to use it. Please keep us in mind as you make your daily purchases for your family. It really can add up! If you need help signing up for SCRIP or more information about how to use it, please contact the school and we will "hook you up."

Mass of Reparation

A penitential Mass of Reparation for the sins of bishops and clergy was held at 6:00 p.m. on Thursday, September 13. Priests were available before, during and after Mass for the sacrament of Confession. It was wonderful to see people lined up to go to confession. Following Mass, Eucharistic Adoration continued throughout the night. Over 60 people attended the Mass and a few "kept watch" through out the entire night. Fr. Binny, Fr. Rene Gerona, and Fr. Thomas McLaughlin assisted Fr. DeViese.

Tips for Forming Your Family Register at: spchurchweston.formed.org

Pray as a Family

Opening the Word offers prayer and insights to accompany the Sunday readings. A short video, discussion questions, and prayer journal provide a great way for families to pray together and prepare their hearts for the Lord's Day.

Go to Mass

The true presence of Jesus in the Eucharist is God's greatest gift to us. Our love, adoration, and frequent reception of Jesus in the Eucharist will make us better spouses, parents, siblings, and friends. As Jesus in the Eucharist is the source and summit of our faith, Presence is perhaps the most important study to watch and discuss as a family.

Practice Reconciliation

Healthy families practice reconciliation. They set aside time to share how they have been hurt and ask one another for forgiveness. This practice is developed through frequent reception of the sacrament of reconciliation where we experience God's healing mercy and grace. Forgiveness will engage the whole family with its rich teaching, stunning videography, and helpful children's session.

Plan a Weekly Power Hour

Setting aside an hour each week for family faith formation is a great way to practice the Faith. Watch, listen or read a piece of content on FORMED and discuss its application to life today.

Choose Wholesome Entertainment

Transform your family movie night, car rides, or bedtime rituals with movies and radio theatre on FORMED. The stories of heroic Catholics will inspire your family to become saints. Watch, discuss, and recall later with your children how God worked in ordinary lives and how He desires to work in ours today.

Support Your Teenagers

The greatest impact on the identity and belief system of a teenager is meaningful conversations with their parents. YDisciple offers short videos and discussion questions for parents and their teenagers. It also provides resources to build a small faith sharing group for teenagers with their friends.

Share Faith at Meals

Families that make it a priority to eat dinner together benefit from greater unity and stronger communication. Integrating faith sharing into meal time discussion feeds both body and soul. Whether you read an excerpt from an e-book, watch a segment from Symbolon, listen to part of an audio, or discuss the readings with Opening the Word, your children will form their worldview and identity from these experiences of faith sharing around the table.
