Catholic Schools Week

The Gospel of this Sunday, from the Gospel of Matthew 1:18-24 begins in a typical Hebrew fashion, by giving the genealogical table of Jesus, who was born of Mary. He does not mention the Annunciation, nor Mary's problem of preserving virginity while becoming a mother. But the revelation given to Joseph, Mary's betrothed, which Matthew here describes, brings out the fact of the virginal conception of Jesus, and his messianic mission of salvation. Matthew then adds that Christ was the Messiah, to be born of a virgin, of whom the prophet Isaiah spoke, seven centuries later.

This is the last Sunday of our preparation for Christmas, the anniversary of Christ's birth. Like Joseph, we can all feel unworthy of the honor of welcoming him into our hearts and our homes. We are indeed unworthy, not because we have little of this world's goods, but because we have so little humility, so little charity, so little faith and trust in God's goodness. Let us try to imitate Joseph and Mary, the humblest of the humble, the kindest of the kindly, and the greatest-ever believers in God's goodness and mercy. We can never hope to equal them, but we can follow them humbly, from afar.

The feast of Christmas should draw the hearts of every child of God towards the furnace of divine love. In the manger, the infinite love of God for us miserable sinners is dramatically and forcefully portrayed before our eyes. In that helpless Baby, represented by a statue, we know that the person, and the power, of the omnipotent Creator and sustainer of the universe lie hidden "He emptied himself, taking the form of a slave" for us. He became a creature, like ourselves, so that he would make us sharers in his divine nature. He came on earth to bring us to heaven. He hid his divine nature so that he could cover us with it.

"Unsearchable indeed are the judgements of God, and inscrutable his ways." But though we are unworthy of his infinite love, it nevertheless stands out as clear as the noonday sun in the Incarnation. We realize that we can never make ourselves worthy of this infinite love, but let us imitate Joseph and accept the honor which God is giving us, as we trust that he will continue to make us daily less unworthy.

Give the Gift of Music

WARM GREETINGS!

I am writing a more detailed explanation about the pipe organ rebuilding to the congregation of Saint Patrick Church because a very generous parishioner has made an offer to match dollar for dollar contributions dedicated to paying off the organ fund loan. I have also included photos of the organ which most people cannot normally see.

The Organ Console

Upon my arrival in 2019, it became immediately evident that the organ at St Patrick's Church was in need of a complete overhaul because many notes were not working and many components of the instrument were in beginning to mid stages of failure.

The organ was installed in the early 1950s by the M.P. Moller organ Company of Hagerstown Maryland. The relatively small instrument had six ranks of pipes and approximately 400 pipes spread over two keyboards and a pedal board. No information of the previous organ is known which serve the church until 1952.

The Organ Wind Chest

St Patrick's Church reviewed three different bids from different organ companies and then settled on a bid from the late Al Sterner and Walker Technical Company to rebuild the mechanism of the current pipe organ as well as adding a new three manual organ console with digital controls and new digital stops (sounds) to expand the tonal range and capability of the organ. After several delays and the death of the original contractor Al Sterner, the organ was completed on Saint Patrick's Day in 2020 ironically the day the church was closed because of the lockdowns occurring throughout the country. The organ rebuilding was completed by Mr. Ray Colby in conjunction with the Walker Technical Company.

Plans to have a dedication concert and blessing by the bishop were canceled because of the uncertainty of the lockdowns in 2020. And so, a proper dedication and a thank you to the parishioners who contributed to the organ never took place. It is the intention however to have a proper blessing and dedication of the organ.

It is my hope that generous contributions will continue to come in to pay off the organ loan completely. This can be done very easily because of the current dollar for dollar match. This will also allow the pastor to then address other pressing concerns within the parish such as the replacement of the boiler which heats the church and the school.

The Organ Pipes

Thank you for all who have already contributed. St Patrick's Church is blessed now to have a beautiful pipe organ which will continue to sing God's praises and elevate voices in Sacred Music.

Feast of St. Nicholas

Ms. Kennedy's class learned about the life of St. Nicholas and reflected on ways they can be more like him in their own lives. The lesson concluded by putting the virtue of generosity into action, as students secretly delivered a treat to the kindergarten classes in his honor.

The Polar Express

Last week, students took part in one of the most highly anticipated holiday activities—the Polar Express! Beloved friend of our school, Mr. J.J. Jordan, read The Polar Express to the children, followed by a cozy celebration with hot cocoa and Christmas cookies.

Holiday Visitors

Students enjoyed several special visitors: Santa Clause, Buddy the Elf, & The Grinch!

It looks as if Principal Riley had to have a serious talk with the Grinch about how terrible it is to steal Christmas.
